SUMMARY

Bilingual (English/Mandarin) seller who finds a way in where there is no playbook. Built my pipeline from cold outreach, delivered $200K+ against a $100K quota in six months, and became one of my company's top sellers, converting at twice the team average. I win on relationships rather than price, remember what matters to people, read the market early, and build my own tools with AI when manual work slows me down. Founder-minded and resilient: I start things, own the outcome, keep moving through rejection, and listen closely to the people I build with.

WORK EXPERIENCE

EHOMIE GROUP, Boston, MA Sep. 2025 – Present

Sales / Data Partner, Level II

- Closing without a playbook: Owned the sales cycle end to end, from first outreach and discovery through negotiation and close, delivering $200K+ against a $100K quota in 6 months; consistently among the company's top sellers.
- Finding a way in: Started with cold outreach, worked every connection available, and mapped the Boston student rental market by segment, pricing, and channel to find the people others listened to, turning them into a referral network.
- Winning on trust, not price: Won clients even when competitors offered better deals by remembering what mattered to each person and tying recommendations to their goals, converting at 2x the team average.
- Reading the market early: Built a market intelligence tracker on pricing and seasonal demand, used Grok to build a scraper that reports listing changes daily (validated against source sites), and independently ran multi-platform advertising and content to keep inbound flowing.
- Making it repeatable: Designed SOPs and coached peers so teammates could run the full sales cycle on their own. Promoted to Level II (fastest on team) within 4 months.
