INDEPENDENT RESEARCH

GREATER BOSTON MULTIFAMILY RESEARCH Oct. 2026

Interactive research site built from public records, listing evidence and an audited Excel workbook

- Public records: Pulled Hew at 1515's FY2025–FY2026 assessment and tax records from Boston's assessing database and cross-checked them against City tax tables ($85.3M assessed, $1.06M FY2026 net tax).
- Excel pro forma: Built a 150-unit development model with market-rate and Boston inclusionary (17% restricted + 3% voucher) scenarios, sensitivity tables and audit checks to test how affordability requirements change feasibility.
- Market and spatial analysis: Mapped Hew and its competitors in QGIS, converted asking rents to effective rents, added Census ACS demand data, and applied the method to Greystar's Everett Triangle.
